RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Idealized modeling, tropical convection, atmospheric radiation, hydrological sensitivity

EDUCATION

Columbia University

PhD in Applied Math and Atmospheric Science

Dissertation Topic: Idealized Models of Tropical Precipitation

Expected Graduation September 2024

GPA: 4.00/4.00

University of Pennsylvania

Masters in Mechanical Engineering and Applied Mechanics

Concentration: Heat Transfer, Fluid Mechanics, and Energy Science and Engineering

Honors: Rachleff Scholar | 2018 Honorable Mention Outstanding Academic Award

Graduated December 2017

GPA: 4.00/4.00

Bachelors in Mechanical Engineering and Applied Mechanics

Honors: Rachleff Scholar | 2017 Hugo Otto Wolf Memorial Prize | Dean's List 2013-2017

Graduated May 2017

GPA: 4.00/4.00

EXPERIENCE

Columbia University

Researcher in Dr. Adam Sobel's Tropical Meteorology Group

August 2020 - Present

- Implemented parameterizations of large-scale dynamics into NCAR's single column model
- Modified a dynamics parameterization to account for boundary layer effects
- Created an analytical model for spectrally resolved radiative cooling sensitivity

Ball Aerospace & Technologies

Associate Thermal Engineer

February 2018 - June 2020

- Supported various space and RF programs via thermal analysis and testing:
 - Created FEA, CFD and reduced dimensionality models (ANSYS, TD, MATLAB)
- Pursued personal research projects (Publication below)

University of Pennsylvania

Researcher in Dr. Katherine Kuchenbecker's Haptics Lab

Summer 2015

- Designed a system that allows surgeons to tactically sense the steady-state forces they apply during practice surgical tasks on the Da Vinci Surgical System

Researcher in Dr. Dani Bassett's Complex Systems Group

Summer 2014

- Analyzed how sound propagated through two-dimensional force chains in granular materials

AWARDS

- Honorable Mention Outstanding Academic Award (2018)
- Hugo Otto Wolf Memorial Prize (2017)
- Rachleff Scholarship (2013-2017)
- Dean's List (2013-2017)

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

- “Modifying a Weak Temperature Gradient Parameterization to Include a Boundary Layer Mass Flux Forcing”, Oral. AGU Fall Meeting; San Francisco, CA; December 2023
- “The Spectral Roots of Hydrological Sensitivity”, Oral. AGU Fall Meeting; San Francisco, CA; December 2023
- “Implementation and Exploration of Parameterizations of Large-Scale Dynamics in NCAR’s Single Column Atmospheric Model SCAM6”, Oral. AMS Tropical Meeting; New Orleans, LA; June 2022

TEACHING

Columbia University

Teaching Assistant for Numerical Methods

Fall 2022

- Held weekly recitations, graded midterms, projects, and assignments

University of Pennsylvania

Chair of Local Committee of Engineers Without Borders

Fall 2015 - Fall 2017

- Taught weekly lessons at Saul High School in Philadelphia
- Aided students in SAT prep and college applications

Teaching Assistant for Direct Energy Conversion

Fall 2017

- Held weekly recitations, graded assignments

Teaching Assistant for Statics and Mechanics of Materials

Fall 2016

- Held weekly recitations, graded assignments

Teaching Assistant for Thermodynamics

Spring 2016

- Held weekly recitations, graded assignments

Teaching Assistant for Energy Systems

Fall 2015

- Held weekly recitations, graded assignments

OUTREACH

National Council of Jewish Women New York Hunger Program

Volunteer

Spring 2021 - Spring 2022

- Served food, translated for Spanish speakers

Boulder Homeless Shelter

Volunteer

Spring 2017-Spring 2020

- Prepared and served food
